Victory Name for Mt. Marcy Opposed At Lake Placid

Shore Owners' Association to Voice Organized Protest if Project Is Pressed; Water Races Plans Laid

Special Correspondence

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 12.—Sojourners here in the heart of the mountains, where Mount Marcy, towering above the southern range of the Adirondacks, is a conspicuous feature of the landscape, are unitedly opposed to the proposal of changing the mountain's name to "Mt. Victory" in connection with the project of dedicating the park to the memory of the men who fell in the war. This plan has been advanced by the Victory Mountain committee, of which Governor Smith is honorary chairman. Dr. John H. Finley, State Commissioner of Education, active chairman. Should the memorial be pressed it is probable Lake Placid's opposition will be voiced by the Lake Placid Shore Owners' Association, of which Professor Edwin R. A. Seligman, of Columbia University, is president.

On Monday there was a meeting of the trustees of the Lake Placid Yacht Club, at which tentative plans for sailing and power boat races as well as for the water sports during the season were outlined.

Bridle Path Will Fringe Paul Smith's Highways
Construction Soon To Be Begun of Eight-Foot Gravel Drive for Riding

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., July 12.—Among lovers of horseback riding at this resort in the heart of the Adirondacks is a rejoicing because work is about to be started on an eight-foot gravel bridge path along the principal motor ways in the district of which Paul Smith's is the centre. The work is undertaken in accordance with the provisions of the new law which makes optional the construction of an eight-foot horse drive on one side of the motor ways or of a six-foot drive on either side. The plans for this division of the state highway system provide for the eight-foot drive as preferable.

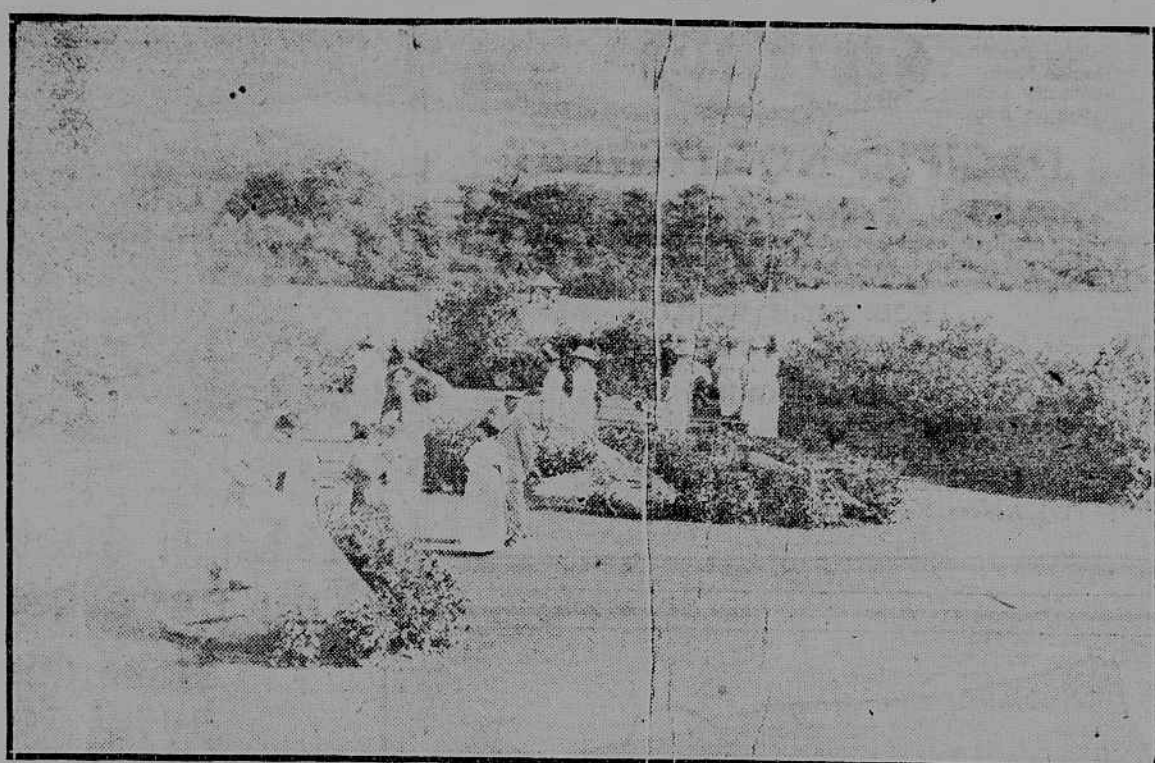

Among those from New York now at Paul Smith's hotel who are much pleasure in horseback riding and are in the saddle daily are Miss Vera Richardson and Miss Norma Moore, both accomplished horsewomen.

The recently arrived campers include Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Pratt, of Glen Cove, N. Y., at their Japanese camp on the Upper St. Regis, and General Alfred A. du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., at White Pine camp, on Osgood Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. McDougald, of Montreal, who are here to occupy their new $100,000 camp on Osgood Lake, have been rejoicing at Paul Smith's hotel and are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Henry Macomber and Mrs. John Hanlon, of New York.

Frank Macomber, Miss Bianchi and Miss Whittemore, of New York, have

Reservations Indicate That All Summer Records Will Be Shattered This Year
Special Correspondence

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 12.—The hot days of the past week did not seem to make much difference to the guests of the Griswold or the cottage residents of Eastern Point. Yesterday the beach, golf course and tennis courts were crowded, and many others were spending their time yachting or motoring.

During the week-end of the Fourth the hotel was packed to capacity and was turning numbers away. The Griswold is booked full in advance for the entire summer and is forced to turn away many who did not engage reservations early enough.

The excellent golf course on the Shennecossett links is attracting hundreds for miles around. Last Sunday there was a very large gallery to see

Mike Brady and Walter Hagen beat Gil Nicholls and Alex Smith.

Atlantic City Host To Elks for Annual Meeting of Order

Hard Liquor Dies Slowly at Jersey Resort; 2.75 Beer and Light Wines Are Now Only Beverages on Sale

Special Correspondence

ATLANTIC CITY, July 12.—Thousands of members of the B. P. O. Elks invaded Atlantic City this week. The entire amusement resources of the city were given over to the visitors, who filled the avenues and Boardwalk during their parade of peace and victory, which was the feature Thursday. Wednesday there was a "fair day" at the Airport, in Chelsea, when members of the official staff of the fraternity were taken up in planes and expert pilots did special stunts for the delectation of the guests. Officials of the Grand Lodge had headquarters at the Traymore and delegations of the body were entertained in every hotel in the resort.

Liquor Dies Hard
Hard liquor died a lingering death here during last week and the resort and the visitors bibulously inclined went on a strict war beer basis. Big hotels continued their restrictions on the sale of every sort of drinks at bars, and wines of the lightest alcoholic content were the only liquid refreshments sold in the smart restaurants and cafes.

A movement is on foot to further weaken the Boardwalk after the present season, and city rulers have passed edicts limiting the size and width of rolling chairs to assure against congestion during the morning and evening hours.

All the hotels are holding dances, and there will be a card and dance party at the Chelsea in aid of the Children's Seashore House later this month. Both the Boardwalk and the city clubs are busy centers of social life, with weekly dances and an ambitious programme of racing and cruising events in prospect.

Miss Frances Tracey, of New York, arrived at the Traymore this week with Miss Margaret Pettus and Miss Lucile Pettus. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark joined the New York colony at the Traymore.

Other New York patrons there include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stull, Allen Campbell, Mrs. S. F. Routledge and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patton.
